

Semester - long Spanish Language Program | Español avanzado

This Program follows the same academic calendar as the Universidad Católica de Córdoba: March to July (SM1) and August to December (SM2). Classes begin on the same day as the first day of regular academic classes for the University. Final exams are held at the end of the semester.

This intermediate level Spanish course is designed to prepare students to interact in the Spanish-speaking academic, social, and professional world.

Our professors, who are specially trained in teaching Spanish as a second language, are committed to both helping students achieve their academic goals and providing them with an exciting international experience.

Course description

This course gives students the opportunity to improve their communicative competence in Spanish and gain confidence in using the language. They learn vocabulary, practice appropriate conversation about different topics, and receive pronunciation instruction. Besides, reading skills are developed so that they can cope with the extensive academic reading required in university courses. Students are also trained to write in a variety of different genres including but not limited to academic contexts. In each level of instruction, students learn the grammatical structures necessary to speak, read, and write with fluency and accuracy.

This four-hour-a-week course is designed to be completed in one semester and aims to train students in Speaking & Listening; Reading; Writing, and Grammar. A student must successfully complete one level in order to advance to the next level. Advancement is accomplished by fulfilling all course requirements (e.g., attendance, active participation in class, completion of graded homework assignments, quizzes or tests) as well as by passing the final test at the end of the semester.

Program fee: $ 3.500 (pesos argentinos)* Price subject to change.
